FEATURED SPEAKER:

Tameka Chatman, MA, LCADC (Master of Arts) received a BA in Psychology and Criminal Justice from Temple University and a Master’s in Forensic Psychology from John Jay College of Criminal Justice. She has substantial experience in program development, as well as curriculum design, development and implementation, and has brought her knowledge and experience in the behavioral health field to the classroom as an Adjunct Professor of Psychology. Mrs. Chatman has trained and supervised several treatment teams in a range of behavioral health settings on an assortment of topics including group dynamics, psychopathology, case management, crisis intervention, treatment planning, assessment, and clinical interventions. She currently provides outpatient substance abuse services and chairs two advisory councils focused on issues pertaining to behavioral health and the justice system. She provides training, technical assistance, and consultation services to mental health and substance abuse providers throughout the state of New Jersey as a Training and Consultation Specialist at Rutgers University Behavioral Health Care.

Course Objectives
1. Define addiction and consider cultural perspectives for substance use. Identify at least 2 categories for drug taking behavior.
2. List at least 3 protective and 3 risk factors associated with substance use disorders.
3. Identify and explain at least 3 ways to assess risk (likelihood) of substance use.
4. Define co-occurring disorders.
5. Identify at least 2 major drug classifications and correctly categorize at least 3 common “street drugs”.
